COMMUNITY MOOD 6/10 · +2 vs last week

Previously: the Weft exploit incident report landed, the TC for Ratification vote opened, and the funded-restart debate stayed unresolved.

Governance took center stage this week as the DAO ratification vote smashed through quorum with unanimous approval, while the community wrestled hard with how to distribute recovered hUSDC from the hack. The room started tense over the fairness question but ended energized as projectShift outlined what comes next for community-led rule.

WHAT THE ROOM TALKED ABOUT

DAO ratification vote passes quorum

The 7-day ratification vote reached and surpassed quorum by Sunday with 100% approval. projectShift urged continued participation through the remaining five days, noting quorum is a requirement, not the goal. foxolady and XRD82 drove voter turnout all week, with foxolady sharing first-24h stats of 100 accounts and 880M XRD.

Recovered hUSDC: return or redistribute?

The community debated whether ~450k recovered hUSDC should return to original holders or be shared among all hack victims. Faraz, Timan, foxolady and Radix Superfan argued for returning to rightful owners; Ulfar pushed pro-rata distribution. projectShift framed it as a jurisdictional question and noted Hyperlane's compliance requirements may limit what's…

Open-source liability after the hack flightofthefox argued that holding open-source authors liable for all downstream uses would kill open source entirely. Radix Superfan questioned whether bugs causing massive financial losses should carry zero accountability. The exchange was substantive but unresolved.

Community builds governance tooling

GENKIPOOL launched a functional governance portal at radix-community.genkipool.com, with Timan converting the Webflow site to static to cut costs and adding multi-account voting. The community also flagged outdated dApp listings on public pages that could undermine user confidence.

THE BOTTOM LINE

REMEMBER THIS

The DAO ratification vote surpassed quorum with unanimous approval — community self-governance is now within reach.

NEXT WEEK

Watch for: the DAO Constitutional Proposal closing 2 October, the FND Refund Allocation vote closing 4 October, and whether the hUSDC distribution debate moves to a binding vote.

More from the room

The week had more conversations than one page could hold.

Next steps after ratification

projectShift clarified the Activation vote truly starts the DAO, but incorporation allows preparatory work including electing the Permanent RAC. foxolady noted at least seven candidates are needed and that work groups can begin organizing immediately.

From the council & the crowd

What the tracked voices said, and the week's best exchanges.

COUNCIL & INSIDER WATCH

The 7-day ratification vote opened and surpassed quorum with 100% approval. projectShift outlined FND asset transfer requirements to the DAO and clarified that the Activation vote will formally start the DAO, with preparatory work including electing the Permanent RAC.

projectShift RAC

Confirmed ratification quorum reached with 100% approval, outlined FND asset transfer rules, and clarified that the Activation vote truly starts the DAO while incorporation enables preparatory work.

"Let's keep going, quorum is a requirement, not the goal."

Faraz RAC

Argued only returning recovered hUSDC to original holders is valid, proposing a six-month ROLA claim mechanism with unclaimed funds recouped by the DAO.

flightofthefox (hyperscale.rs) HYPERSCALE-RS DEVELOPER

Pushed back on holding open-source authors liable for downstream damage, arguing automatic liability would kill open source entirely.

"If releasing code that others use - automatically put authors on the hook for all downstream liabilities, in every instantiation, then... lol, no one would ever do open source ever"

GENKIPOOL COMMUNITY BUILDER

Built a functional governance portal and defended using real voter data over synthetic simulations, while calling for more professional community moderation standards.

foxolady COMMUNITY MEMBER

Argued recovered property must return to rightful owners, rallied voter participation with first-24h stats, and reflected on how the hack hit the most engaged community members hardest.

"I prefer to look to the future and not to the past. Now the community owns radix and has a chance to change things and decide."

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

"What are the next steps after the DAO ratification vote passes?"

The Activation vote is what truly starts the DAO, but incorporation allows the Transition RAC and FND to do preparatory work including electing the Permanent RAC. Community work groups can begin organizing immediately.

DEBATE OF THE WEEK — HOW TO DISTRIBUTE RECOVERED HUSDC

ONE SIDE

Return recovered hUSDC to original holders since ownership is provably clear and redistributing it amounts to theft.

THE OTHER

Share recovered funds pro-rata among all hack victims since the exploit damaged the entire ecosystem and everyone deserves compensation.

open — the FND Refund Allocation vote closes 4 October, with Option 1 drawing the most support.
