Radix DAO Weekly

The week in governance, without the scroll-back

WEEK 24 · 8 JUN 2026
8–14 Jun 2026
Telegram + RadixTalk

COMMUNITY MOOD · DAY BY DAY 7/10 · +1 vs last week

Previously: Peachy stepped away from the council, removing the final KYC blocker for forming the DAO LLC, and the wallet handover continued in maintenance mode.

A light week for governance. The official Recap reported progress on the DAO's legal and operational framework, the sunset of the validator subsidy, and a nearly complete Stokenet wind-down, while the community debated whether the new DAO's legal structure should allow cheap sub-DAOs, and a fully on-chain DAO framework launched as a possible future governance app.

WHAT THE ROOM TALKED ABOUT

Series LLC sub-DAOs for the DAO

Michael (RadixScan) asked Daffy whether the new Radix DAO's Operating Agreement could include a 'Series LLC' provision, allowing cheap, lawsuit-protected sub-DAOs for future projects. Daffy said it was not part of the current legal work but could be amended later, and that he would raise it at the next legal meeting.

DAO transition milestones in Recap

The June 8 official Recap reported progress on the community DAO's legal and operational framework, the official sunset of the Foundation's validator subsidy, and a Stokenet wind-down nearing completion.

Muan Protocol as governance app

Nicolai launched Muan Protocol on mainnet: a fully on-chain DAO framework where governance holds auth badges rather than wiring into every contract, with no off-chain snapshot dependency. He said it could replace Consultation App V2 as the DAO's governance app if the community wants it.

THE BOTTOM LINE

REMEMBER THIS

The DAO's founding legal documents are still open to amendment — the Series LLC sub-DAO question goes to the council's next legal meeting.

NEXT WEEK

Watch for: whether Daffy reports back from the next legal meeting on the Series LLC idea, and the next DAO-structuring update from the council.

COUNCIL & INSIDER WATCH

No council decisions were reported this week; Daffy, involved in the DAO's legal work, said he would raise the Series LLC question at the next legal meeting.

flightofthefox HYPERSCALE DEV

Pushed back on the Series LLC sub-DAO idea as overkill, and confirmed Xi'an is very much underway, pointing to the Hyperscale Telegram for progress.

"Sub-DAOs sound overkill. Like the DAO version of Piers setting up 100 entities when they're actually just a little startup"

Nicolai SENTURA

Launched Muan Protocol, a fully on-chain badge-based DAO framework, and positioned it as a possible successor to Consultation App 2 for the DAO's governance.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

"Is a Series LLC structure included in the new Radix DAO's foundational legal documents?"

Daffy said it was not part of the current legal work, but the Operating Agreement can be amended later if it is legally sound; he will raise it at the next legal meeting.

DEBATE OF THE WEEK — SUB-DAOS VIA SERIES LLC

ONE SIDE

A Series LLC provision would make it cheap and safe for anyone to launch a project under the DAO's legal umbrella, protecting founders from lawsuits.

THE OTHER

It is premature complexity for a young DAO — risks proliferating empty entities before the core structure has even formed.

Still open — expect a rematch.

THE PULSE

The mood: Quiet on governance but constructive — the DAO's legal structure drew a substantive first debate, and a new on-chain governance tool arrived as an option.
