COMMUNITY MOOD · DAY BY DAY

5/10 · same as last week

Previously: the Transition RAC faced pressure over transparency, Phil Gibson filed a Strategic Council RFC, and projectShift confirmed Hyperscale stays Apache 2.0.

A milestone week with a date attached: projectShift said the DAO's Operating Agreement is expected by 29 June and urged Permanent RAC candidates to step forward — JamesXRD and linuxx signalled interest. Peachy stepped down from the council, treasury transparency pressure intensified, and the community argued over open source, grants and working groups.

WHAT THE ROOM TALKED ABOUT

DAO Operating Agreement and Permanent RAC

projectShift set a 29 June target for the Operating Agreement and explained the handoff: the current council becomes the Transition RAC on DAO formation, then a 7-member Permanent RAC must be elected. Daffy confirmed the charter will come with a plain-English summary covering legal requirements, member protection, token-holder rights and known attack...

Open source or protected Xi'an

The open-vs-closed-source debate resumed: flightofthefox said open source is the only way he'll build and the validator network — not the code — is the moat; Vlad B warned well-funded incumbents could fork the finished tech and capture the value. Vlad acknowledged the argument was going in circles and stopped.

Treasury transparency and grants

Karl Tong pressed for a public ledger of community funds and who holds the keys; answers said the treasury transfers to the DAO entity only once formed, and the amount won't be known until then. A parallel debate asked who the DAO should fund: only projects with traction, or seed grants too.

Peachy steps down from RAC

FarahXRD confirmed Peachy is no longer on the council, linking the official announcement. Members noted Peachy was the council's most visible advocate and asked for more transparency on the reasons.

THE BOTTOM LINE

REMEMBER THIS

The DAO's Operating Agreement is targeted for 29 June, with the first Permanent RAC candidates already stepping forward.

NEXT WEEK

Watch for: the Operating Agreement landing on 29 June, more Permanent RAC candidacies, and any answer on the treasury baseline.

From the council & the crowd

What the tracked voices said, and the week's best exchanges.

COUNCIL & INSIDER WATCH

projectShift set a 29 June target for the Operating Agreement, walked the community through the Transition-to-Permanent RAC handoff, and urged candidates to come forward early. The council's announcement channel confirmed Peachy's departure.

projectShift TRANSITION RAC

Set the OA target at 29 June, explained that the Permanent RAC must be elected with no automatic inheritance, and asked members not to nominate people for RAC roles without talking to them first.

Daffy COMMUNITY GOVERNANCE CONTRIBUT

Explained why the Permanent RAC concept emerged, confirmed the charter will get a plain-English summary, and said working groups can be planned now but only formally execute once the Permanent RAC is seated.

flightofthefox HYPERSCALE DEV

Said Hyperscale continues regardless of what Radix does, will integrate Radix Engine as Xi'an if the DAO keeps paying milestones, and argued grants should only fund projects with traction.

"The code is NOT the finished product. The network is the product! That you can't fork (at least not without convincing a majority of validators to fork)"

FarahXRD COMMUNITY MEMBER

Confirmed Peachy's departure from the RAC and pointed to the council's official announcement.

"At the end of the day Radix is all of us and we're lucky to have so many people willing to contribute. That's what makes us strong."

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

"Can a working group be formed before the DAO is activated?"

Planning and proposals can happen now, but formal execution has to wait until the Permanent RAC is in place; Daffy suggested submitting a proposal to the existing Foundation in the meantime.

ASKED BY PHIL GIBSON · ANSWERED BY DAFFY

DEBATE OF THE WEEK — SHOULD THE DAO FUND DAPP DEVELOPERS?

ONE SIDE

No perpetual subsidies: only outcomes-based milestones for projects that already have traction — funding pre-traction ideas is gambling.

THE OTHER

Some XRD grants with lockups, revenue share or open-source requirements are needed to seed apps the market won't fund on its own.

Still open — expect a rematch.

HEARD IN THE ROOM

> "I am asking for hard facts, not philosophy. Where is the actual public ledger for the DAO, and who currently holds the keys?"
>
> — KARL TONG

> "Groups/candidates/etc should be getting setup now… Just adds delays to defer until the ink is dry on some paperwork."
>
> — FLIGHTOFTHEFOX

> "We're just spinning in circles here and I'll stop. I don't think either of us are wrong, and we'll see how it unfolds."
>
> — VLAD B

THE PULSE

The mood: Restless but engaged — a concrete date for the Operating Agreement lifted the mood, while silence on treasury funds and Peachy's quiet exit kept frustration simmering.

JARGON, DECODED

Working group — A small community team with clear ownership of one area, such as technology, growth or partnerships.

Charter — The document setting out the DAO's legal requirements, member protections, token-holder rights and defences against known attack vectors.

Quadratic voting — A voting method where the cost of extra votes rises quadratically, so strong preferences cost more than many mild ones.
