Radix DAO Weekly

The week in governance, without the scroll-back

WEEK 30 · 20 JUL 2026
20–26 Jul 2026
Telegram + RadixTalk

COMMUNITY MOOD · DAY BY DAY — 6/10 · +1 vs last week

Previously: the Permanent RAC candidate crisis left a thin field, philcgibson's paid wallet proposal reignited the contributor-pay debate, and Andyxrd set a mid-August DAO-readiness deadline.

A hands-on governance week: two community proposals went to Temperature Check, the interim social media handover to FarahXRD was settled, and the community debated the voting thresholds and the Temperature Check process itself. Behind it all sat the recurring question of what the Foundation can still execute before the DAO takes over.

WHAT THE ROOM TALKED ABOUT

Two proposals reach Temperature Check

Daffy's revised Stokenet operations proposal and Timan's proposal to migrate the official website from Webflow to Cloudflare both opened for Temperature Check voting. tomsnn urged members to do due diligence and vote to show the Foundation that community support exists.

Interim social media handover

Andyxrd proposed bringing FarahXRD back to manage Foundation social channels until the DAO launches. After GENKIPOOL raised payment-transparency concerns, Farah agreed to do the work free of charge, with community-submitted posts vetted against Foundation guidelines.

Consultation v2 vote thresholds

Doelle_Doeck announced a weekend Consultation v2 vote with TC quorum 3%, GP 7% and a >=50% pass threshold. foxylady argued the bar is too high for small but crucial services; Doelle_Doeck warned that lowering it risks a dominant holder draining the treasury with repeated proposals.

What can the Foundation still execute?

Doelle_Doeck said they and others are holding back proposals with running costs because it is unclear what the Foundation can currently execute, citing an outstanding Stokenet operations proposal. Andyxrd said such decisions should come through debate and vote rather than one opinion.

THE BOTTOM LINE

REMEMBER THIS

Two community proposals — Stokenet operations and the website's Cloudflare migration — are in Temperature Check, the first real test of the pre-DAO voting process.

NEXT WEEK

Watch for: the Temperature Check results on both proposals and Andyxrd's answer on whether the Foundation will execute proposals with running costs.

From the council & the crowd

What the tracked voices said, and the week's best exchanges.

COUNCIL & INSIDER WATCH

Council members focused on the transition: projectShift endorsed the interim social media plan, asked for transparent disclosure of any compensation, posted governance materials for visibility, and reminded the community that submitting proposals and voting is real training for the DAO.

Andyxrd
Proposed FarahXRD's interim return to manage Foundation social channels until the DAO launches, and confirmed she agreed to do it free of charge after transparency concerns.

projectShift TRANSITION RAC
Endorsed the social media plan and Timan's Cloudflare migration, called for transparent compensation disclosure, and asked for governance posts to be pinned in the main chat.

"This community is perhaps finally realizing that instead of just asking/demanding/claiming that 'this and that' should happen, it needs actual ppl to step up, make a proposal and get it approved"

FarahXRD COMMUNITY CONTRIBUTOR
Accepted the interim social media role unpaid and suggested a form or Telegram group for community post submissions.

Doelle_Doeck COMMUNITY CONTRIBUTOR
Ran the Consultation v2 vote, defended its thresholds against calls to lower them, and pressed the question of what the Foundation can still execute.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

"Does the consultation dApp support vote delegation for hardware-wallet accounts?"

Delegation support appears to already be in the components; djtrebel committed to adding it, and nicolai_Sentura noted snapshot voting with delegation is already work in progress.

DEBATE OF THE WEEK — IS THE TEMPERATURE CHECK PROCESS WORTH IT?

ONE SIDE

foxylady: TCs feel like voting twice and cause voter fatigue; a lower quorum, or letting a TC pass directly as binding if quorum is met, would be better.

THE OTHER

gilesmorris: people who can't be bothered to vote are not the ones the community should incentivise, so the process should not be loosened for them.

Still open — expect a rematch.

THE PULSE

The mood: Maturing and practical — members are calibrating voting thresholds, pressing for payment transparency, and stepping up with proposals rather than demands, though low participation still tempers the mood.
