RADIX DAO · WHAT GOVERNANCE TALKED ABOUT

Radix DAO Weekly

COMMUNITY MOOD · DAY BY DAY

4/10 · -1 vs last week

Previously: the DAO ratification vote passed quorum with unanimous approval, and the Foundation's refund Temperature Check on recovered hUSDC split the community.

The DAO ratification vote closed on 2 October after passing quorum, shifting attention to what the DAO actually needs in order to function on day one. Sebööol pressed detailed operational questions — bank accounts, accounting, a bootstrapping workgroup — which projectShift answered by framing the DAO as a governance shield, not an operating company. Frustration about the Foundation's remaining capacity and RDX Works' status ran through the week.

WHAT THE ROOM TALKED ABOUT

Day-one operations of the DAO

Sebööol argued Radix DAO LLC needs fiat bank accounts, accounting, tax filings and a funded bootstrapping workgroup before the Permanent RAC takes over. projectShift said many concerns are already covered in governance policies and operational decisions belong after the Activation vote.

Treasury vesting timeline

Frosties asked when the community will learn exactly which funds and assets the Foundation vests in the DAO. projectShift said the details will likely only be known on the day of effective handover, after incorporation and technical prerequisites such as PrimeVault accounts and signers.

DAO ratification vote closes

The 7-day ratification vote, which surpassed quorum by 27 September with 100% approval, expired on 2 October. Attention now moves to activation steps and the Permanent RAC election.

Foundation capacity and transparency

Members questioned who is left at the Foundation (Sebööol said Andy is the 'last man standing'), and a winding-up petition against RDX Works surfaced. flightofthefox argued the situation is deeply concerning; others urged focus on what the community controls.

THE BOTTOM LINE

REMEMBER THIS

The DAO ratification vote closed on 2 October after passing quorum with unanimous approval, and the debate moved to what the DAO needs in order to actually operate.

NEXT WEEK

Watch for: the refund Temperature Check result, the handover details, and whether a bootstrapping proposal takes shape.

From the council & the crowd

What the tracked voices said, and the week's best exchanges.

COUNCIL & INSIDER WATCH

No formal council meeting extracts were published this week; projectShift, the dominant council voice, framed the DAO as a governance shield and deferred operational decisions to the post-Activation period.

projectShift TRANSITION RAC

Said treasury details will only be known on handover day and operational decisions best come after the Activation vote under Permanent RAC stewardship. Pushed back against accusations of failure, citing ten years with Radix.

"DAO is about governance, not control, even operational."

Sebööööl RAC CANDIDATE

Raised detailed day-one operational concerns for the DAO LLC and shared RDXH figures of roughly £1.5m cash and £19m digital assets as of May 2025; personally reached out to frustrated members to rebuild dialogue.

flightofthefox HYPERSCALE DEV

Called the RDX Works situation deeply concerning, said former assets are now HMRC property, and argued people, not entities, solve problems in post-Foundation governance.

"entities don't solve problems, people solve problems"

foxylady COMMUNITY ORGANISER

Redirected the rebrand discussion, saying the community needs enthusiasm and people standing up for the RAC and work groups rather than cosmetic changes.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

"When will we find out exactly which treasury funds and assets the Foundation will vest in the DAO?"

Probably only on the day they are effectively handed over, after the DAO is incorporated and the Transition RAC has enabled technical prerequisites such as PrimeVault accounts and signers.

DEBATE OF THE WEEK — WHAT THE DAO NEEDS ON DAY ONE

ONE SIDE

Sebööööl: a legal entity needs fiat bank accounts, accounting, tax filings, a liquidity reserve and a funded bootstrapping workgroup from the start.

THE OTHER

projectShift: the DAO is a governance shield, not an operating company; most assets are already transitioned and operational details belong after Activation under the Permanent RAC.

Still open — expect a rematch.
