Radix DAO Weekly

The week in governance, without the scroll-back

WEEK 46 · 9 NOV 2026
9–15 Nov 2026
Telegram + RadixTalk

COMMUNITY MOOD · DAY BY DAY — 5/10 · same as last week

Previously: the community signed the OTC deal for RDX Works' XRD, the RDXH blocking Temperature Check hit 87% quorum, and more permanent RAC candidates stepped forward.

A pivotal week: the OTC funds landed and the DAO was officially founded, while a wave of candidacies filled the permanent council race. A rounding flaw in core Radix Engine pool blueprints exposed a harder question — who holds the repository keys once the Foundation is gone.

WHAT THE ROOM TALKED ABOUT

Permanent RAC candidacies rush

The candidacy thread swelled to around 15 confirmed candidates: sitting Transition RAC members Tadkis and Mr. Peanutbutter, plus Giles Morris, Kadafi, wingspan, Markus and robellino, among others. Nominations closed Friday; the vote is still expected in November.

OTC deal executed, DAO founded

Gary confirmed the OTC deal is fully executed, with roughly 1.4 billion XRD received at a community-monitored address. foxylady announced the DAO is now officially founded with funds transferred; electing the permanent RAC is the last missing piece.

Who owns the repository keys

A rounding flaw in the native TwoResourcePool and MultiResourcePool blueprints — present since Babylon — was exploited on high-value, low-decimal pools. A patch and rebuild are needed, but commit rights still sit with the Foundation, not the DAO.

XRD supply cap not enforced

Bayesien found nothing in the protocol enforces the XRD supply cap, and the shortened emission period Dan Hughes discussed was never implemented. He expects the issue to be fixed for Xi'an.

THE BOTTOM LINE

REMEMBER THIS

The DAO is officially founded with the OTC funds landed, and the permanent council vote will still happen in November — but the pool flaw shows the community still lacks the keys to fix core code.

NEXT WEEK

Watch for: the permanent RAC vote opening, the RDX Works court hearing on 18 November, and any handover of repository commit rights.

More from the room

The week had more conversations than one page could hold.

THE CONVERSATIONS, CONTINUED

Validator fees to fund development

Kadafi proposed validators commit 10–50% of their fees to ecosystem development and launched two RADIX FAM validators dedicated to it. Jelthebest countered that the DAO should run its own validators with a 100% fee and stake its own XRD.

How RAC seats are filled or removed

Mr. Peanutbutter explained seat mechanics under the new Governance Framework: scheduled elections, special elections for mid-term vacancies, community recall proposals, for-cause removal and voluntary resignation. projectShift described the Majority Judgment ballot, where voters must qualify every candidate or the vote is null.

ALSO THIS WEEK

- linuxx led volunteers who rebuilt the Wallet's broken price service at prices.radixdao.org within 48 hours, with the RAC handling approvals.
- Bayesien offered help with 'dapp in a day' workshops, having run nine in London.
- Anthony floated a low-cost marketing pilot targeting Australian university guilds for Feb/March.
- Gary restored 22M XRD of MEXC liquidity and staked 25M XRD to Martin's Delphibets node after Martin said node runners pay costs out of pocket.
- foxylady explained why fox's Rust hyperscale build differs from Dan Hughes's Java research prototype.
- linuxx warned that the Weft and Psilobox validators look inactive and stake should be redeployed.

From the council & the crowd

What the tracked voices said, and the week's best exchanges.

COUNCIL & INSIDER WATCH

The Transition RAC confirmed the permanent-council vote will still happen in November, allowing a few days to check candidates and finish formalities, and asked candidates to follow the posted candidacy rules.

projectShift TRANSITION RAC

Confirmed the permanent RAC vote happens in November using Majority Judgment, where voters must qualify every candidate or the ballot is null. On the pool flaw, he called for a risk assessment of affected pools and noted fixing it requires commit rights to Foundation-controlled…

“This is great work chaps, fucking proud of you. And a great example of what it means "Community runs this now"”

Mr. Peanutbutter TRANSITION RAC

Announced his Permanent RAC candidacy and explained how seats are filled and removed: scheduled elections, special elections, recall proposals, for-cause removal and resignation.

Tadkis TRANSITION RAC

Stood for the Permanent RAC, citing 30 years in business development and work on Radix since the beginning.

Kadafi RAC CANDIDATE

Posted his candidacy on the forum stressing execution over ideas, and separately proposed validators dedicate 10–50% of fees to ecosystem development, launching two RADIX FAM validators committed to it.

“Having a good idea means very little if you can't execute it.”

Markus RAC CANDIDATE

Re-entered the council race now the RDXH situation is resolved, offering to serve as one of the five Treasury Signers.

flightofthefox HYPERSCALE DEV

Clarified Hyperscale is not abandoned — his independent build continues — but DAO setup is more pressing for Radix than migration talk. He downplayed the pool-flaw severity and urged patience: ’don’t panic. brick by brick.’

“i would also suggest there's many more pressing matters in radix-land also like getting the DAO setup 😅”

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

“When is the permanent RAC vote, and can it happen before December?”

It is still happening in November; the council just needs a few days to check candidates and complete formalities before voting opens.

DEBATE OF THE WEEK — HOW TO FUND ECOSYSTEM DEVELOPMENT

ONE SIDE

Validators should voluntarily dedicate a share of fees to development now — Kadafi launched two validators that already do.

THE OTHER

The DAO should run its own validators at a 100% fee and stake its own XRD, because recent engine hacks show maintenance needs sustainable, dedicated funding.

Still open — expect a rematch.

THE PULSE

The mood: Optimistic and energised as the DAO was founded and candidates stepped up in droves, sobered by the pool exploit and the unresolved question of who holds the repository keys.
