What the room was really talking about

WEEK 43 · 19 OCT 2026
19–25 Oct 2026
Telegram + RadixTalk

COMMUNITY MOOD · DAY BY DAY

4/10 · same as last week

Previously: the hUSDC recovery turned fully transparent, node-hosting options narrowed, and the ex-RDX XRD row erupted with Gary chasing a buyout.

A quieter, scratchier week: recovery of the stuck bridged USDC inched forward, the ex-RDX token saga stayed stuck in 'wait and see', and underneath some gloom the builders kept quietly shipping tools and two heartfelt council candidacies landed. The recurring theme was patience — waiting on Hyperlane, waiting on the RDX transition, waiting on the election.

WHAT THE ROOM TALKED ABOUT

hUSDC recovery continues

Andy.XRD reported 419K USDC recovered last week with 24.7K still stuck on the Solana route; Hyperlane advised against returning the recovered funds until the rest is sorted. Meanwhile the halted bridge is why wallet balances look wrong.

Who holds the ex-RDX XRD?

Gary said the RDX Works situation is still TBD — directors are mid-transition ('basically getting fired') — with clarity expected but not delivered. A new twist: Jelthebest proposed the DAO itself buy the bag back so the tokens sit 'in all our hands'.

Is Radix in decline?

A frank argument ran through the week: Sir Drape Yird called the network a slow death with scalability never delivered, while builders pointed to tools shipping daily. Moderation stepped in against persistent trolls after a formal warning.

GENKIPOOL's builder toolkit grows

GENKIPOOL reintroduced Radix Seal, a document-signing tool positioned as a cheaper Adobe Sign alternative, and shared the Proof of Personhood launch with idOS plus new funds-flow tabs on his dashboard. Sebööö! asked whether the idOS gateway is actually used anywhere now.

THE BOTTOM LINE

REMEMBER THIS

The DAO buying back the ex-RDX XRD bag — Jelthebest's idea of putting those tokens 'in all our hands' — is the week's most interesting new thought.

NEXT WEEK

Watch for: clarity on the RDX Works token situation that Gary says is close, and movement from Hyperlane on the stuck collateral.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

> “Has anyone explored ISO 20022 bank messaging integration on Radix?”
> Not in use as far as known, and unlikely to arrive before there’s sufficient liquidity and a stablecoin — though the tech is available and more feasible here than on other networks.

DEBATE OF THE WEEK — IS RADIX WORTH BUILDING ON?

ONE SIDE

Skeptics say adoption is dead and the promised scalability never shipped, so builders are wasting their effort.

THE OTHER

Builders counter that work continues at full speed, the tools are shipping, and the remaining community is here for the tech.

Still open — expect a rematch.

THE PULSE

The mood: Weary but patient — recovery work grinds on, trolls tested the room's nerves, yet heartfelt candidacies and quietly shipping builders kept the underlying faith intact.

KEEPING SCORE

The tracker

What the room expects to happen — and how last week's calls went.

PREDICTION TRACKER

CAME TRUE — Nothing paid on stuck hUSDC until Hyperlane releases collateral
Confirmed: recovered USDC stays put while 24.7K remains stuck on the Solana route.

PENDING — Lean edition gateway fits a 1 TB disk soon

MISSED — Gary hears back from ex-RDX parties this week
Still TBD — RDX directors are mid-transition; clarity expected but not delivered.

PENDING — Hyperlane returns once hUSDC recovery completes
