What the room was really talking about

WEEK 45 · 2 NOV 2026
2–8 Nov 2026

COMMUNITY MOOD · DAY BY DAY — 5/10 · +1 vs last week

Previously: trust was rebuilding slowly — recovery funds partly stuck, the ex-RDX XRD bag unresolved, and candidacies trickling in.

A week of payoff: the recovered hUSDC started flowing back to affected accounts, and on Friday Gary announced the community has signed the deal to buy RDX Works' ~1 billion XRD — the room erupted. Underneath the celebration, a fierce argument simmered over whether validators should block the 'RDXH' wallets, and GENKIPOOL quietly shipped a free archive of the entire Olympia era.

WHAT THE ROOM TALKED ABOUT

RDX Works OTC deal signed

Gary announced the community has finalized and signed the agreement to buy RDX Works' ~1 billion XRD over the counter. Transfers take a few more days; he'll answer questions when he returns next week.

Should validators block RDXH tokens?

A temperature check on validators refusing to serve RDXH addresses reached 87% quorum. Supporters say the community has the stake to enforce it; opponents warn it sets a precedent that scares off future whales.

hUSDC recovery distribution ongoing

Recovered hUSDC is being returned to affected accounts; everything except Weft, Flux and xhswap was already done, with the rest promised same day. Mike Nguyen spotted a ~23.3k shortfall, likely still on Solana awaiting bridging.

Wallet stability versus new features

Ghenadie argued a stable wallet beats continuously adding fragile features, noting no wallet feature since Babylon has had real economic impact. GENKIPOOL pushed back: fear of bugs is a lame excuse to stop publishing.

THE BOTTOM LINE

REMEMBER THIS

The community signed the deal to buy RDX Works' ~1 billion XRD — transfers finish in days, with details to follow.

NEXT WEEK

Watch for: the OTC token transfers completing, Gary's Q&A on the deal, and the remaining hUSDC returns to Weft, Flux and xhswap.

More from the room

The week had more conversations than one page could hold.

GENKIPOOL's Olympia archive and explorer

GENKIPOOL published the full Olympia network archive (CC0 licence) on Hugging Face and archive.org, and extended the Radix Community explorer to cover both Olympia and Babylon — built at zero cost with no own servers.

THE PEOPLE

From the council & the crowd

What the tracked voices said, and the week's best exchanges.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

> “Why did the Foundation wallet receive about 23.3k hUSDC less than the recovered amount?”
> Some of the funds may still be on Solana and need to be bridged over.
> ASKED BY MIKE NGUYEN · ANSWERED BY TIMAN

DEBATE OF THE WEEK — BLOCKING THE RDXH WALLETS

ONE SIDE

RDXH is a liquidated bad actor draining the network; validators can and should refuse to serve its addresses, and the community holds enough stake to enforce it.

THE OTHER

Freezing big holders breaks network neutrality, sets a precedent that scares off future whales, and legality doesn’t make it cypherpunk.

Still open — expect a rematch.

FROM THE NEWS ROOM

Hyperlane pools live on DefiPlaza

Timan announced hUSDC, hETH and hwBTC pools against XRD are live on DefiPlaza, and offered to add more Hyperlane asset pools to RSwap or DefiPlaza on request.

Olympia archive published free

The full Olympia network archive is now public under a CC0 licence, so anyone can build their own explorer or dig into the original Founders Reserve movements.

Babylon node test commit flightofthefox shared a GitHub commit anyone can try for the Babylon node — with the caveat not to test it on a voting node.

FROM THE DEV ROOM

flightofthefox shared a Babylon node commit for anyone to try, warning against testing it on a voting node; linuxx meanwhile reported AI-auditing Ociswap, Caviar and DefiPlaza contracts and finding notable issues.

HEARD IN THE ROOM

> "WE HAVE SIGNED A DEAL! ... But congratulations 🎉. We got the deal done!"

JARGON, DECODED

Over-the-counter (OTC) deal — A direct, privately negotiated purchase of tokens rather than buying on an open market.

Cypherpunk — The crypto-culture belief that code and cryptography should guarantee freedom and privacy regardless of what any law says.
