Previously: the DAO ratification vote surpassed quorum with 100% approval, the hUSDC distribution debate split between returning to holders versus pro-rata sharing, and the community was pivoting from crisis recovery to

A turbulent week. The DAO Constitutional Proposal and FND Refund Allocation vote were both due to close, but the room's energy was consumed by darker questions: a winding-up petition against RDX Works surfaced publicly, large treasury XRD transfers to an exchange raised transparency alarms, and a fierce debate erupted over whether the community should fork Radix or whether Hyperscale could serve as an upgrade path. Through it all, a few builders quietly shipped — Caper...

WHAT THE ROOM TALKED ABOUT

DAO governance scope: shield or company?

Seböööl argued the DAO needs fiat accounts, accounting, and a bootstrapping workgroup with budget from day one. projectShift pushed back hard, saying the DAO is a governance shield, not an operating company, and operational decisions belong after Activation under the Permanent RAC.

RDX Works winding-up petition surfaces

Prophet shared a public caseboard link showing an active winding-up petition against RDX Works. flighttothefox called the situation deeply concerning and said former RDX Works assets are now HMRC property. Azel clarified RDXW Ltd and RDXH are separate entities, complicating the picture.

Fork Radix or build on what exists?

Daniel argued for forking to shed legacy liabilities and attract fresh capital. GENKIPOOL and Timan countered that a fork would lose CEX listings, bridges, treasury, and partner trust. flighttothefox dismissed the value of CEX listings held by 'fundamentally useless' entities.

THE BOTTOM LINE

REMEMBER THIS

A winding-up petition against RDX Works surfaced publicly this week, crystallising concerns about the former development company's status and raising the stakes for the DAO handover.

NEXT WEEK

Watch for: confirmation that the DAO Constitutional Proposal and FND Refund Allocation votes have closed, and whether the Hyperscale-as-upgrade debate moves from argument to a concrete proposal.

More from the room

Can Hyperscale upgrade Radix?

flightofthefox argued hs-rs could serve as a Radix upgrade by porting the validator set, assets, and state — a Ship of Theseus. James Sinkem insisted the technologies are fundamentally incompatible. Jonas and Aditya Ingle sided with exploring a migration path.

Treasury XRD transfers raise transparency fears

Bayesien identified seven suspected group accounts holding ~1.49bn XRD, with 233m XRD sent to an exchange address since July. Jelthebest traced a transaction splitting XRD to nodes previously staked on Twinstake. Azel dismissed the concern as FUD, but no official explanation emerged.

ALSO THIS WEEK

- Seböööl shared RDXH financial data showing roughly £1.5m cash and £19m digital assets as of May 2025.
- Vlad B is implementing fiat payments for a new Foton version, likely via Moonpay to avoid Stripe's crypto friction.
- A m volunteered to investigate Ledger Flex hardware wallet support; projectShift suggested a community proposal to fund it.
- Timan listed active Radix projects: Astrolescent, DefiPlaza, RSwap, Foton, Ociswap, Vibolto, rly.fun, and Runfly.

From the council & the crowd

What the tracked voices said, and the week's best exchanges.

COUNCIL & INSIDER WATCH

projectShift was the dominant RAC voice this week, framing the DAO as a governance shield rather than an operating company and deflecting operational concerns to the post-Activation period. He confirmed treasury fund details will likely only surface on handover day. No formal RAC meeting extracts were provided.

projectShift RAC MEMBER

Pushed back against operational-overhead concerns, insisting the DAO is about governance not control. Revealed treasury details will only be known on handover day, after DAO incorporation and Transition RAC technical prerequisites are met.

"DAO is about governance, not control, even operational."

flightofthefox (hyperscale.rs) HYPERSCALE-RS DEVELOPER

Argued hs-rs could serve as a Radix network upgrade via a Ship of Theseus port of state and validators. Called the RDX Works situation deeply concerning, said former assets are now HMRC property, and warned a certain entity's tax liability could exceed the entire market cap.

"if it is not concerning — you haven't thought about it hard enough"

foxylady COMMUNITY MEMBER

Redirected a rebrand discussion toward what matters, saying the community needs enthusiasm and people stepping up for the RAC and work groups rather than cosmetic changes.

"man, rebrand is the least of our worries.. we need some enthusiasm back, and most of all, we need people standing up for the RAC and for work groups"

Sebööö! RAC / STEWARD

Raised detailed DAO operational concerns — bank accounts, accounting, tax filings — and shared RDXH financial data showing roughly £1.5m cash and £19m digital assets as of May 2025. Reached out personally to frustrated members to rebuild dialogue.

"Let's enlight the candle again. 🕯️"

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

"When will we find out exactly how much treasury funds and assets will be vested in the DAO by the Foundation?"

Probably just on the day they are effectively handed over, after the DAO is incorporated and the Transition RAC has complied with and enabled all technical requirements like PrimeVault accounts and signers.

ASKED BY FROSTIES · ANSWERED BY PROJECTSHIFT

DEBATE OF THE WEEK — CAN HYPERSCALE UPGRADE THE RADIX NETWORK?

ONE SIDE

flightofthefox argues Radix's validator set, assets, and state could be ported to hs-rs, making it an upgrade to the same network — a Ship of Theseus that remains the Ship.

THE OTHER

James Sinkem argues the technologies are fundamentally incompatible, Hyperscale is a separate network, and the discussion does not belong in the Radix community group.

Still open — expect a rematch.

Radix Guild task marketplace launches

bigdev_xrd launched Radix Guild on mainnet — a task marketplace for humans and AI agents with on-chain escrow and an open-source Apache-2.0 codebase. Beta, no audit yet.

Vault incident report published

The public incident report on the vault authorisation vulnerability is now available, including remediation steps and audit information.

GENKIPOOL teases Radix-only product

GENKIPOOL said he is building a product only possible with Radix technology, targeting completion by end of year or March at latest. No details shared.

FROM THE DEV ROOM

The week's sharpest technical debate was whether hs-rs could serve as a Radix network upgrade. flightofthefox compared it to PostgreSQL and PlanetScale — open-source that Radix could adopt — and argued the validator set, assets, and state could be ported. James Sinkem called the technologies...

HEARD IN THE ROOM

“Like Prometheus: condemned to suffer again and again, only to regenerate and face another day. Every day, the eagle returns. Every day, Prometheus does too. And despite everything, he still brought fire.”

— WARD $WOWO

“I have been with Radix since 2016 and invested in the ICO, try 10 years of fed up and a x100 less value on the investment for a measure.”

— PROJECTSHIFT

“entities don't solve problems, people solve problems”

— FLIGHTOFTHEFOX (HYPERSCALE.RS)

THE PULSE

The mood: Frustration and uncertainty dominate — the RDX Works winding-up petition, opaque treasury transfers, and a deepening people gap have left the community questioning whether the pieces are in place to move forward.

JARGON, DECODED

Winding-up petition — A formal legal request to a court to force a company into closure and liquidation, typically filed by creditors.

Ship of Theseus — A philosophical paradox: if every part of something is replaced, is it still the same thing? Used here to argue a network can be upgraded by replacing all its c

Escrow — A mechanism where funds are held by a neutral third party until conditions are met, used in Radix Guild to secure task payments.
