What the room was really talking about

WEEK #26
2–8 Nov 2026

COMMUNITY MOOD · DAY BY DAY

5/10 · +1 vs last week

Previously: the DAO was born on 31 October, the OTC talks wobbled, and the room waited on the recovered Solana USDC and the RDX Works burn vote.

A week that ended in genuine celebration. After months of stop-start negotiation, Gary signed the over-the-counter deal for RDX Works' ~1 billion XRD on Friday, and the room erupted in thanks. Around it: recovered hUSDC flowed back to holders, validators debated blocking RDXH addresses, and builders quietly shipped — a free Olympia archive, Hyperlane pools and more.

WHAT THE ROOM TALKED ABOUT

The OTC deal is signed

Gary announced Friday that the community has finalized and signed the agreement to buy RDX Works' ~1 billion XRD over the counter; transfers take a few more days, and he'll answer questions on his return. The room celebrated what roger_moon called the best news in years.

Should validators block RDXH?

A temperature check on validators refusing to serve RDXH addresses hit 87% quorum. Azel | genesisclown.xrd called RDXH thieves and said validators can voluntarily block them; Jelthebest, GENKIPOOL and Reply Guy warned it sets a dangerous precedent that scares off future whales. Daffy noted TCs stay advisory until the DAO activates.

Recovered hUSDC going home

@Andy.XRD and Timan confirmed the recovered hUSDC is being returned, with everything except Weft, Flux and xhswap completed by midweek. Mike Nguyen spotted a ~23.3k gap between the recovered and delivered amounts; Timan said some funds may still be on Solana awaiting bridging.

RDX Works enters liquidation

Jelthebest shared a UK Gazette insolvency notice, with more detail expected in about two weeks. Discussion turned to whether RDXW must sell or freeze its tokens; flightofthefox doubted a holding company could legally firewall the assets from HMRC's back-tax claim.

THE BOTTOM LINE

REMEMBER THIS

The community signed the OTC deal for RDX Works' ~1 billion XRD — the biggest unresolved question of the handover is now settled on paper.

NEXT WEEK

Watch for: the OTC token transfers completing, Gary's question-and-answer on the deal, and the UK Gazette liquidation details due in about two weeks.

More from the room

The week had more conversations than one page could hold.

Handover prep and PRAC push

GENKIPOOL has wallet pull requests waiting and is pre-writing code for the repository handover, eyeing gateway removal to cut costs. projectShift confirmed the Foundation's asset transfer to the DAO is still underway, and called for more Permanent RAC candidates — Cluse submitted his candidacy.

ALSO THIS WEEK

- Ghenadie argued for a stable wallet over new features, with flightofthefox weighing centralised relays against hand-rolled peer-to-peer.
- LINUXX.xrd offered to AI-audit major dApp contracts and found notable issues in Ociswap, Caviar and DefiPlaza code.
- XRD82 concluded after reading the charter that RAC members face no significant personal liability if the DAO fails.
- Daffy (aka Heimdallr) explained that temperature checks stay advisory until the DAO activates, and enforcement depends on validators updating software.

From the council & the crowd

What the tracked voices said, and the week's best exchanges.

COUNCIL & INSIDER WATCH

The council kept expectations honest: projectShift confirmed the Foundation's asset transfer to the DAO is still in progress, thanked Gary for the deal, and kept pushing for more Permanent RAC candidates ahead of the election.

Gary OTC NEGOTIATOR

Signed the community's over-the-counter deal for RDX Works' ~1 billion XRD; transfers complete within days and questions answered next week.

"WE HAVE SIGNED A DEAL! ... But congratulations 🎉. We got the deal done!"

projectShift RAC

Confirmed the DAO has not yet legally received the Foundation's assets — the transfer is still underway — and urged more candidates for the Permanent RAC.

Timan DEFIPLAZA

Returned recovered hUSDC to nearly all accounts and launched new Hyperlane pools on DefiPlaza, with more on request.

GENKIPOOL COMMUNITY BUILDER

Shipped the Olympia archive and community explorer at zero cost, and is pre-writing wallet code ahead of the repository handover.

"By acting as the network's judges, you are destroying its consensus."

flightofthefox (hyperscale.rs) HYPERSCALE DEVELOPER

Weighed wallet engineering trade-offs, doubted RDXW's legal firewalls, and shared a Babylon node test commit — with a warning not to try it on a voting node.

"i don't recommend testing on a voting node"

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

"What's the TLDR after being away for a month?"

The DAO is formed with a permanent RAC election coming, roughly 100k stables plus ~2 billion XRD have been transferred, and Gary just signed an OTC deal for RDX Works' ~1 billion XRD during its liquidation.

DEBATE OF THE WEEK — SHOULD VALIDATORS BLOCK RDXH TOKENS?

ONE SIDE

Blocking: RDXH is a bad actor draining the network, validators can voluntarily refuse their transactions, and the community holds enough stake to enforce it.

THE OTHER

Neutrality: freezing a big holder sets a precedent that undermines the network's credibility and scares off future whales — validators shouldn't act as judges.

Still open — expect a rematch.

FROM THE NEWS ROOM

Recovered hUSDC returned

Hyperlane pools live on DefiPlaza

Timan launched hUSDC, hETH and hwBTC pools against XRD, and is taking requests for more bridged-asset pools.

Olympia archive and explorer ship

GENKIPOOL published a free community explorer covering Olympia and Babylon, plus the full CC0-licensed Olympia archive for anyone to build on.

FROM THE DEV ROOM

flightofthefox shared a Babylon node commit anyone can experiment with (just not on a voting node), while the dev-side chat balanced Ghenadie's push for wallet stability against GENKIPOOL's appetite for new, audited features.

HEARD IN THE ROOM

> "as we saw with the hack - the validators are the powerbrokers - the parties actually in control of the power we delegate to them"
> — GILES MORRIS

> "What you can't do is add features without auditing them, but there's a big difference between that and not publishing because of potential bugs."
> — GENKIPOOL

> "Update is to be patient until end of day tomorrow. Sorry that it has to be like that, but it does."

> — GARY
